4-H Club Plans Program

Senior 4-H Club President, "Plicky" Williams, holds the key to the 4-H planned program for 70-71 club year. The Keys to 4-H are represented by four words – Co-operation, Understanding, Respect, Loyalty.

Along with President Williams and his planning committee of fellow 4-H members, guest speakers and authorities in special fields have been invited to speak at alternate 4-H meetings at the high schools. The purpose is to provide selected subjects to older club members. During enrollment time in October, 249 young people filled in enrollment cards.

Some of the special programs already presented to the High School Club are Dr. George Blume, VPI Sociologist, on Careers; State Police on Automobile Safety, State Police as a career, and Training Police Dogs for law enforcement purposes, "Karate" – by Robert Crouch's School, Dr. Evans G. Thompson, Director of Admissions V.P.I.S.U., Blacksburg, Va.

We understand "Plicky" has been accepted at V.P.I. for the fall session. We are sure President Williams will excell in sports and community activities at college as well as he did at home.

Delegates Visit Natural Bridge

Hope Paulette (left) and Brenda Ferguson (right), were the Appomattox County High School Latin Club's delegates to Saturday's meeting at Natural Bridge, Va. of the Executive Council Committee for the Junior Classical League. Brenda has in her hand a current copy of "Forum", a Jr. Classical League publication which includes news of the Appomattox Latin Club. Nineten schools were represented at Saturday's meeting. The League's 1971 national meeting will be held in Oklahoma City, Okla. The 1972 meeting will be held at VPI, Blacksburg. Accompanying the delegates to the Natural Bridge meeting were ACHS instructor James Hall and Jesse Morgan, an ACHS student. Miss Claudine O'Brien is Latin instructor here and advisor to the Latin Club.

F.B.L.A. ATTENDS 19TH REGIONAL MEETING

Appomattox County High School Chapter of Future Business Leaders of America attended the Nineteenth Regional meeting at Longwood College on March 6, 1971.

Our school had 32 members and our sponsor, Mrs. Celia Beamer, attended the meeting. Upon roll call we discovered our school had the highest attendance.

Dianne Williams was elected and installed as the new Regional Reporter for the coming school year.

Kathryn Sharp placed third in the Miss F.B.L.A. contest. David Tyree was selected as Mr. F.B.L.A.

Iris Cordell participated in the spelling contest and placed third.

Mary Nell Doss took first place in the Essay Contest. Ann Cunningham placed first in Public Speaking.

Ann Cunningham, David Tyree, Iris Cordell, and Mary Nell Doss will compete at the state level in Richmond in April.

Our club scrapbook received the superior awards. The bulletin board and exhibit our club entered won merit awards.

Congratulations to all winners!

Dianne Williams, Reporter

County Committees May Rule On Farm Conserving Bases

A producer whose farm conserving base is a limiting factor in operating his farm in line with good management practices may appeal for an adjustment of the base through the end of farm program signup, April 9.

Three important provisions will be observed by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) County Committees in adjusting conserving bases for changes in farming operations, according to J. P. Alvis, Jr., Chairman of the Appomattox County ASC Committee. They are:

*Downward adjustment of a conserving base will be made only upon a determination that farm operations have changed from conserving crops to non-conserving crops in recent years, or in the judgment of the County Committee, such a change will be made this year.

* Acreage removed from the conserving base will be limited to that determined to be suitable for continuous cropping.

*Downward adjustment will not be made to accommodate a farmer's required set-aside acreage under the 1971 farm programs.

"Basically, the rules on conserving bases are being updated in line with modern farming operations," Mr. Alvis said. He pointed out today's market-oriented farm policy requires that farmers have more freedom for decision – making about their farm operations. The set-aside farm programs of 1971 provide for this by getting away from the rigid crop limitations of previous programs.

"As for conserving bases," he said, "although adjustments have been made over the years for tangible changes in farm operations, in some instances conserving bases still tended to keep producers locked into types of farming operations that were no longer in their best interests.

"Or they may have had to choose between staying out of farm programs or continuing an uneconomic farm operation."

"For instance, a dairy farmer with 500 acres was following the recommended grass-silage feeding program when his conserving base was established. So his conserving base was set on this basis. Since that time he has determined that grain silage would be the most efficient feed for his herd, and he has been growing corn. But he couldn't participate in the feed grain program because he didn't maintain his conserving base. Now his county ASC committee can adjust his farm's conserving base in line with his actual farm operations, if the farmer asks for a downward adjustment," the Chairman said.

Mr. Alvis emphasized that adjustments cannot be made to accomodate set-aside acres. "By that, we mean producers cannot be given an adjustment in their conserving base simply to make up for the land they must set aside in order to participate in the 1971 farm programs. The county committee will review the entire farm operation on the basis of intended cropping."

He also emphasized that conserving acreage which is recommended only for conserving uses, such as grass cover, must remain the conserving base. "No authority is given for making an adjustment that will result in a conserving base of less than the acreage recommended for conserving uses," he said.

"Naturally, we don't know how many adjustments will be requested and granted locally, nor for how much acreage," the ASC Committee Chairman said, "but U. S. Department of Agriculture officials feel that conserving base adjustments on a national scale will not be a major consequence. For individual farmers involved, of course, it could be quite important."

Remind Men of Prayer Breakfast

Bernard C. Richardson and Thomas M. Richardson wish to remind the men of the county of the prayer breakfast they are sponsoring at Maude's Restaurant each Saturday morning in March at 6 a.m. Men are invited to drop by on their way to work for a short worship service, Bible reading and prayer, and at the same time eat breakfast or have a cup of coffee and a doughnut. On Sat., March 27, the group will decide whether to continue with the 6 a.m. meeting or whether to change to an after-supper service in some one's home or elsewhere. If you are interested in a morning or evening service of worship, in addition to the regular worship services on Sundays and Wednesdays at your own church, you are cordially invited to drop by Maude's Restaurant around 6 a. m. this coming Saturday morning.

Garden Club Plans Supper

The Appomattox Garden Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Appomattox High School cafeteria, Feb. 22, at 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Ivey Holland, program chairman and members, are arranging for a Spring Buffet Supper, with members inviting husbands and guests to the affair. "Food becomes flowers" will be the theme of the buffet; a Gourme' Garden will grow, with dishes being prepared with artistic culinary, creating flowers and arrangements.

The food will be judged by the same standards as flower arrangements with blue, red and yellow awards.

After the buffet, Mr. James A. Smith, County Agent, will speak and show slides; his topic being "Heritage of Splendor."

Mrs. S. B. Waddell, president urges all members to come; bring a guest and enjoy the unusual program of good food and entertainment.

TWO WINNERS AT FASHION SHOW

Miss Jackie Cobbs, of Oakville, won a $15 gift certificate good for purchases at Leggetts-in-the-Plaza, Lynchburg, a presentation of the Jr. Woman's Club of Appomattox as a part of their Thursday evening 'Fashion Show" at the Intermediate School Auditorium. Another winner (this one a $10 certificate) was Mrs. Mary Alice Flick, of Appomattox.
